Exposition Draws Big Crowd on Opening Night

More Than 1,200 People Attend Big Show at Fair Grounds and Inspect Exhibits of Kingston's Business and Other Activities—Excellent Entertainment Pleases Everybody—Contests Attract Much Attention—Elaborate Program Planned.

The Kingston Exposition was officially opened Friday evening at 6 o'clock and its popularity was shown by a record breaking attendance. Nearly 1,200 people crowded the big gates during the evening and so great was the crowd that several times it was necessary to close the doors of the Model Electric Home to allow those who wanted to see it to get through.

The exhibits were unusually fine and almost all had been completed even though some of the exhibitors started late in installing them. The vaudeville program was remarkably good. The Pick Sisters of the Imperial Midgets gave a very effective dance number which elicited salvos of applause from the mass of people in the amusement section. Fred Van Deusen gave an exhibition of magic which had the crowd mystified. Maisenheider's orchestra rendered a fine musical program during the evening.

This afternoon the Pet Show will be held and prizes will be given to the children entering the prettiest, smeliest, smallest and most unusual pets. Dogs, cats, guinea pigs, rabbits, pigeons, snakes, turtles, a white mouse and a crocodile, have been entered. The owners of this menagerie are as follows:

Stricter Rules For Bus Drivers

Those Who "Hog" the Road or Drive Recklessly Are to Be Held to Strict Accountability — Bus Schedules May Be Examined.

Albany, Sept. 11.—Bus drivers who usurp more than half the road and who drive with such speed and recklessness as to frighten and otherwise jeopardize the safety of other users of the highway are to be called for a strict accountability of their acts, according to a statement issued today by Charles A. Harnett, commissioner of motor vehicles. The recent wrecking of an omnibus at Sparkill, Rockland county, and complaints that in some instances busses are driven at the rate of from 40 to 60 miles an hour to meet company schedules have prompted action by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Within a few days orders will be sent to the inspection division to summon to court all bus drivers who exceed the speed limit or drive in a reckless manner. In addition to prosecution of such drivers bus companies will be directed to appear at the bureau office for inquiry as to bus schedules and the speed required to meet the time limit.

This action follows a warning issued last month by William F. Dinneen, deputy commissioner of motor vehicles, to all bus corporations in which it is said that "many complaints emphasize specifically the fact that the operators of omnibuses hold more than their half of the road, thereby forcing the lighter vehicles off the hard surface to avoid accidents." The warning quotes the highway law which prohibits the practice of "hogging" the road, and urges the owners of omnibuses to call the attention of all employes to the bureau warning.

"The operation of omnibuses should be made reasonably safe," Commissioner Harnett said today, "and the Bureau of Motor Vehicles is determined to put an end to speeding busses at a rate that endangers the lives of passengers in order that running time may be maintained."

Arrest Follows Syndicate Probe

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—Investigation of a syndicate which was planned to operate diamond and gold mines, a rubber plantation of 20,000 acres, an airplane transit enterprise in British Guiana and five stores on the Mazurin river, has resulted in the arrest of Fred A. Norman of Syracuse and the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Dr. Lewis J. Bingham, local osteopath. Shares in the enterprise and its subsidiaries have been sold in Ithaca, Cortland, Syracuse and nearby cities.

Attorney-General Albert Ottinger ordered the investigation after Norman and Bingham are alleged to have received $25,000 from Ithacans for stock in the Ameri-Guiana syndicate. Complaint was made to the attorney general by the Ithaca Chamber of Commerce.

The warrants, signed by Louis Warner of the Buffalo office of the attorney-general, charge sale of stock before publication of intent to sell as required by law.

SHEIKS SHED ARAB COSTUMES IN DEFERENCE TO VALENTINO

Biarritz, France, Sept. 11 (AP).—"Sheiks" along the Basque coast have shed their Arab costumes out of respect for the memory of Rudolph Valentino. For several seasons gay-colored turbans and Arab tunics have been popular with the men bathers at the fashionable beaches. But after Valentino's death the crowds seemed inclined to disapprove what were considered attempts to ape the film hero, and would-be sheiks now find themselves more comfortable in the ordinary bathing caps and bathrobes.

ALICIA GLENDENNING AWARDED DIVORCE

Reno, Nev., Sept. 11 (AP).—A romance between an heiress and the student son of a mail carrier, begun aboard the steamship Aquitania, has ended in divorce.

Alicia Glendenning, adopted daughter of Alfred I. Dupont, the Delaware powder manufacturer, has been awarded a divorce from Harold Glendenning, member of one of the oldest families of Norwalk, Conn.

The Glendennings were married in London, June 28, 1922. Glendenning was a Rhode Island scholar at Oxford. Miss Dupont had been studying in Europe. The wife in her plea for a divorce charged that her husband was insanely jealous of her; that he threatened once to choke her. He resented attentions paid to her by others, she declared, and frequently created scenes in public places by his remarks to her.

A three-year-old, Allan Stanford, was awarded by the court to the mother for eight months of the year, while the father, who makes his home in London, will be entitled to the child for the other four months.

Third Attempt to Kill Mussolini, Italy's Premier

Italian Youth Hurls Bomb Against Car of Mussolini, Exploding When It Hit the Ground—Fascist Leader Escapes Unharmed.

Rome, Sept. 11 (AP)—Benito Mussolini, Italy's picturesque premier and Fascist leader, today escaped the third attempt made upon his life within a year.

Ermete Giovannini, a young Italian stonecutter, threw a bomb against his automobile as the premier was being driven from his residence to the Chigi Palace. The missile struck a side window of the limousine but did not explode until after it had fallen to the ground. Mussolini escaped unharmed. Four passersby, however, were wounded by fragments of glass from the car.

Giovannini, who arrived in Rome from abroad only this morning, entering the country without a passport, was seized by agents escorting the premier's car. A threatening crowd gathered and several policemen were injured in protecting the assailant from mob vengeance.

Mussolini maintained his customary calm, and continued to the palace. At his order, the Fascist directorate issued a manifesto to all black shirts, enjoining calm and directing that there be no attempts at reprisal.

Stage Demonstration.

The mob which threatened Giovannini followed him and his police station, in front of which a demonstration was staged.

Demonstrations were also formed in other parts of the city, as the news became known, with the object of parading to the Chigi Palace and rendering homage to Mussolini.

Police and militiamen were heavily reinforced in the center of the city, and the impromptu parades were broken up as they approached the palace, with the terse explanation that the premier was not favorable to a demonstration there. The principal streets were bedecked with flags, banners and pictures of the premier.

A contestant stream of automobiles arrived at the palace, bringing message of felicitation. The diplomats who called included the American charge d'affaires, Warren D. Robbins.

The Proclamation.

The proclamation issued by the Fascist directorate to all the members of the party was widely circulated, "Again God has saved Italy!" Mussolini is unhurt. From his post of comamnd, to which he returned immediately with the superb calm which no event can change, he has given us the order: No reprisals.

"Black Shirts, you must obey the orders of the chief, who alone has the right to judge and to indicate the line of conduct. We offer to him who resists intrepidly this new proof of our unlimited devotion:

"'Long live Italy!—Long live Mussolini!'"

While the police broke up organized demonstration, a great crowd gathered before the Chigi Palace hoping Mussolini would appear on the balcony. A blazingly sun baked the wide expanse of pavement, providing a fitting background for fever-heated emotions.

Mussolini returned to Rome Thursday evening after attending the military manoeuvers in Umbria in company with King Victor Emmanuel. On his return, he appeared in better health and condition than ever before since he was taken ill early last year. Yesterday he worked all day, conferring with Count Volpi and other officials regarding the new financial and economic measures comprising the deflation program.

Believe Youth Was Hired.

The assassin is a native Italian, he told the police, and was born in 1905 at Castelnuovo di Garfagnana. The authorities believe he was financed and directed by self-exiled anti-Fascisti, notably in Lyons and Paris. They point out that the Paris anti-Fascist paper Corriere Degli Italiana several days ago launched an anti-national campaign with the slogan: "Italians: Boycott Italian goods!"

Government measures to keep news of the attack secret to avoid disorders were so successful that virtually no one on the street knew late this morning that a third attempt had been made against the premier within a year.

The premier was bound for his office in the Chigi Palace from his residence, in the outskirts of Rome, and his car was near the city gate when the bomb was thrown.

Minister of Interior Federzoni, who left last night for Ancona, is reported rushing back to the Capital on a special train.

The Italian premier is no stranger to attempts upon his life. Last April 7, Miss Violet Gibson, an English woman, fired a shot which caused a slight injury to the tip of his nose. The attack was made as he was leaving a session of the congress of surgeons in Rome. His habit of holding his head erect while receiving the plaudits of crowds undoubtedly saved his life.

Miss Gibson had pointed a pistol point blank at his face but at the moment she fired he straightened up and threw his head back, the slight movement causing the bullet to miss the mark. Miss Gibson was adjudged mentally irresponsible.

Another attempt was frustrated in November, 1925, when the police discovered a plot to assassinate him by the former Socialist deputy, Tito Zaniboni.

On Italy's Armistice Day, as he was on his way to make his speech from his residence, Zaniboni was found concealed in a nearby hotel with a high powered rifle furnished with telescope sights. He was arrested and is still in prison awaiting trial.

Crawling Under Railroad Cars

Marlborough Man Was First Officiating as a Traffic Cop When Stopped by Police and Following Day Was Crawling Under Railroad Cars—Other Cases.

Frank Graham of Marlborough, who said he is now working at Napanoch, has had a strenuous time while in Kingston this week after sampling some of the alleged "good liquor" that is dispensed here. Thursday evening he was arrested by Officer Harnen when he insisted on officiating as a traffic officer at Broadway and Railroad avenue, and Friday morning he was fined $10 for public intoxication by Judge Shufeldt in police court. He paid his fine and was discharged.

He evidently had some money left for shortly before five o'clock Friday afternoon he was found crawling under railroad cars in the O. & W railroad yard here by Officers Martin and Burger, and was again arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

Graham's intention when he first came to Kingston on Thursday was to purchase a new suit of clothes, but his money had taken wings and disappeared and when arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in court today he was "strapped". Judge Shufeldt sentenced him to five days in the county jail.

Cullum Fined $10.

Frank Cullum, 18 years old, of 173 Abeel street was arrested this morning by Officer Aley on a warrant obtained by Michael Maloney, caretaker at Block Park on Abeel street, who charged Cullum with disorderly conduct at the park. Cullum was fined $10 by Judge Shufeldt.

Simon Also Fined $10.

Louis Simon, a local taxi driver, arrested recently by John Q. Smith for violation of the taxi ordinance at Kingston Point Park, was fined $10 by Judge Shufeldt.

A representative from the Normal will be there to explain the work and arrange for the courses.

All who took the course last year enjoyed it greatly. A larger enrollment than ever is expected this year. Anyone who wishes to obtain more details can do by writing to Ralph E. Eighmey, Woodstock, N. Y.

SPANISH CITIZENS VOTING ON REFERENDUM

Madrid, Sept. 11 (AP).—Three years ago today Spain came under military dictatorship.

Today all Spanish citizens, men and women over 18 years of age within or without the kingdom, are being given an opportunity in a plebiscite to endorse the work and achievements of the Primo de Rivera government.

Absentation from voting will indicate disapproval.

The voters also may express their opinion on the establishment of national assembly. Such a body would take the place of the cortes, dissolved by royal decree when Primo de Rivera took power.

While the government disclaims taking any part in the referendum and has urged the plebiscite boards to permit absolute freedom of the ballot, the patriotic union—Primo de Rivera's own party—is in actual charge, assisted by the provincial and municipal authorities. Spanish consuls abroad have the task of permitting Spanish residents in foreign countries to inscribe their names on the referendum lists.

SUNDOWN MAN HAD SKULL FRACTURED AT ELLENVILLE.

John Mulford, 22 years old, of Sundown, sustained a fractured skull at Ellenville on Tuesday in attempting to loosen the traps of a coal car at the Edward's Place coal pockets. He had crawled under the car to release the trap-gates, taking with him a heavy wrench. It is thought that the trap-gates released the heavy wrench whirling around struck him on the head. He was removed to the Veterans' Hospital at Ellenville, where his condition is critical and but slight hopes for his recovery are held.

ISSUE WARANTS IN HALL-MILLS CASE.

Somerville, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP).—Warrants for the arrest of two persons as material witnesses in the Hall-Mills case will be issued this afternoon by Justice William R. Swayze, it has been learned from official sources.

It was also intimated that the arrests would be made as soon as the warrants were issued.

Fewer Deaths From Measles

Six Months' Record of Measles Year Shows Less Number of Fatalities But Number May Increase Unless Care is Maintained.

The record for the first six months of the "measles year" 1926 in New York state exclusive of New York city, has been gratifying at least to the extent that the number of deaths is smaller than for the corresponding period of any previous epidemic year. There were 191 deaths during the six months as compared with 273 during the first six months of 1923, the last "measles year" for up-state New York. As a matter of fact the mortality this year was lower even than for most previous non-epidemic years, only four years out of the previous thirteen showing a smaller total from this cause. As a rule from two-thirds to three-fourths of all cases and deaths from measles occur during the first six months of the year. Unless there is some unusual occurrence during the coming fall and winter the total for the year therefore should not reach 500.

Increased Public Interest Helps.

The low mortality is ascribed principally to the fact that there were no fatal epidemics in institutions for children, there having been only four deaths in such institutions this year as compared with twenty-four in 1923 and thirty-four in 1924. It is felt that this is due to the extraordinary care that has been taken not only to guard such institutions against the entrance of the disease but to the unusually efficient medical and nursing care which such children have received in the few epidemics that have occurred. Another factor has been the greatly increased public interest in the disease and the stress placed by the state and many local health departments upon the necessity for prompt and adequate medical and nursing care.

Must Exercise Great Care.

The number of cases reported, 39,976, is greater by more than 500 than for the same period in any previous year, indicating that physicians have been called earlier and more frequently and that the public health authorities have been notified directly by the affected families. The latter have thus received in many instances the benefit of visits from local health nurses and have been placed under medical care when the need was indicated. It is probable that for the last half of 1926 there will be between ten and fifteen thousand cases in the state exclusive of New York city. Since the ratio of deaths to cases is nearly always higher in the last six months of the year than in the first six, from 70 to 100 deaths may be expected unless an even greater degree of interest is taken by the public and the authorities than during the spring epidemic.

Use New System In Broadcasting

Engineers of General Electric Company Announce New Transmission System and Explain Some of Its Advantages.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—Development of radio broadcast signals consisting of a single side band, instead of the usual signals of two side bands and a carrier, was announced today by the General Electric Company. The new transmission system is the result of research work conducted at the South Schenectady laboratory of the company.

Three definite advantages have been established in the new system, it was said, namely, increased efficiency, decreased interference, and conservation of the available range for other radio transmission. Operating under the license 2 X A H, the station at which the new system was developed has been using the side-band transmission on 1,400 meters, and has succeeded in broadcasting WGY programs to station WCAD at St. Lawrence University at Canton, where they have been rebroadcast on that station's wavelength.

In connection with the reception of the single side band signals, the radio engineers have noticed an interesting phenomenon, the announcement today pointed out. If the receiver heterodyne frequency is exactly right true reproduction results this being the only condition under which true reproduction is obtained. If the heterodyne frequency is low or high, however, the reproduced signals are low or high, thus making it possible, the engineers say, to make a contralto out of a soprano or vice-versa at the pleasure of the operator.

The apparatus comprising the transmitter consists of two sections—the single side band equipment and the power amplifier chain. The side band apparatus is installed in a metal screened room, to prevent the powerful fields of the amplifiers from disturbing the delicate balance of the modulators where the power level is in the neighborhood of one watt. In several states the power level is increased to 50,000 watts.

The power amplifier chain, placed outside of the wire-screened room, consists of three stages, the first comprising two quarter-kilowatt tubes, which in turn drive a center stage of two 20-kilowatt water-cooled tubes. Driving voltage is supplied by the middle stage for the water-cooled tubes making up the main power amplifier.

Crowded School Condition and Coal Discussed

Education Board Decides to Install Patent Boiler Grate Designed to Save Coal—Crowded Condition at School No. 6—School Calendar Changed—Changes in Teaching Staff of Schools.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held Friday evening in the high school. The meeting was not very lengthy but a discussion of very important matters was held. The coal situation and crowded condition in the city schools were the outstanding features.

Trustee Beeres, chairman of the building committee, submitted a proposition to have installed in School No. 2 a patent boiler grate and thermostat control. By so improving the boiler in this way, Trustee Beeres stated that rice and buckwheat coal could be burned instead of chestnut and thus a considerable saving would result. Chestnut coal is $14 a ton while the other grades mentioned cost $7.

Trustee Beeres read a communication from Arthur Church, a resident of Kingston, saying that he could install the grate and apparatus for $282. Some discussion followed and it was finally decided that the building committee should be given power to act on the matter. The board considered that the saving on coal would not be the only satisfactory result but due to the automatic control of the heat, the janitor could devote more time to other necessary work in the building. If the installation proves satisfactory it is probable that the same improvement will be made in other schools of this city.

Crowded Condition at No. 6.

Superintendent Michael explained that a crowded condition existed in School No. 6, there being 56 pupils in 1-B grade, and that the principal of that school had informed him at the meeting by the principals that something ought to be done to remedy the condition. Dr. Michael suggested that an extra teacher be employed, as was done last year for Schools 6 and 7.

Hospital to Use Room.

A communication was read from the Kingston City Hospital asking that it be permitted to use the dietetic room in the high school until the repair work on the hospital was completed. The board immediately voted that the request should be granted.

Secretary for Principal Van Ingen.

A report was received from Principal Van Ingen, of Kingston High School, regarding the selection of a secretary. In the communication he stated that three names were submitted after an examination in which all three girls had passed satisfactorily.

Principal Van Ingen reported upon the selection of a secretary and stated that Miss Lillian Lehner was chosen, the names of the other three girls having been made void by their voluntary withdrawal.

Mr. Van Ingen's report was satisfactory to the board and Miss Lehner is to be given a three months' trial and if at the end of that time her work is considered satisfactory she is to be hired permanently at a salary of $800 a year.

Marbletown Did Not Pay.

Superintendent Michael was instructed by the board to inform the State Department of Education of the failure of District No. 1, town of Marbletown, to pay its tuition bill for the year 1925. As the district failed to pay the state department will have to settle for the amount and then take the matter up with the trustees of the school district.

When the trustees of that district met in the fall of 1925 it was designated by the state department that the pupils from that section wishing to attend high school should go to Ellenville. This ruling was later proclaimed void and the pupils attended Kingston High School. When it came time to settle for the tuition bill, two of the trustees refused to give their consent to the payment and thus the debt is still owed to the local board.

The finance committee reported that repairs to the various school buildings in the city had amounted to $19,451.50, and the payroll amounted to $2,691.50. Warrants were ordered drawn in payment of both items.

Repair Work Practically Completed.

The building committee made a report stating that the repair work to the schools during the summer was practically completed and the only work yet to be finished was the toilets in School No. 5 and the fire escape on School No. 7.

Two Janitorship Vacancies.

The committee also reported that three janitors had been appointed from the list submitted by the civil service board. Patrick Lloyd and Alexander Mains declined appointment and James Gorham reported that he was ready to begin work whenever called upon. It was then decided to ask the civil service board to furnish a list with names of men eligible to fill two vacancies that now exist.

Changes in School Calendar.

The Board of Regents of the state of New York advanced the examinations one week and it was found necessary to revise the school calendar adopted by the board at the last meeting. The changes that were made in the school calendar are as follows:

Instead of Regents examinations

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

The Ruthless Boston Braves, who knocked the New York Giants out of the National League pennant in the closing stages of the 1925 baseball season, threaten to treat St. Louis likewise in the present scramble. The Cardinals' lead today is but 2½ games with Cincinnati still second and Pittsburgh third, three points apart.

The Braves, languishing at the tail-end of the circuit were directly responsible yesterday for the Cardinals half game loss to the Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates, who spent the day in a futile effort to solve the second place problem decisively. The Braves smote St. Louis lustily 11 to 3, while Cincinnati and Pittsburgh won games from each other by the same score, 5 to 2.

The threat the Braves offer to the three contenders can hardly be minimized as all three leaders must meet them shortly. Boston has a habit of taking copious defeats in their foreign tours, only to turn upon invaders of their home park with dire results to pennant aspirations. The Cards have three more games with the Hubmen, Cincinnati two and the Pirates three. In home games played against this trio this season, just half, or 12 out of 24 battles have gone the Boston way.

Philadelphia smote the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 4, and broke Guy Bush's record of eight straight victories. The defeat pushed the Bruins three games below third place. Dennis Southern, a recruit from the middle Atlantic league, hit a double and a home run in his first appearance as a Quaker.

Heavy silence shrouded the leaders in the American League with St. Louis halting the six game winning streak of the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4, in the only game played. The game went ten frames and McCurdy, Chicago catcher, had his record of ten hits in ten successive times at bat broken when he was within one of tying the world record.

The following dates have been set for playing off postponed National League games next week:

September 15, Chicago at Boston, double-header; September 16, St. Louis at Philadelphia, double-header; September 18, St. Louis at Philadelphia, double-header.

FAMOUS BATTLES for the HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE.

By The Associated Press.

Jack Johnson tore a page from "Uncle Remus" in defeating Stanley Ketchel in the 12th round at Colma, Calif., July 4, 1907. "Br'er Possum" showed Johnson the way.

Ketchel drove home a series of terrific smashes to the champion's head. Johnson simulated grogginess and the challenger rushed in to finish him. Suddenly the negro came to life and Ketchel's charge was stopped by a right and left to the jaw, either of which might have felled an ox, in the judgment of expert opinion of the day.

The loser was severely criticised by his friends, who declared that he was guilty of carelessness in placing himself in a receptive position for the telling blows.

No information was available, however, that Ketchel had heard of the tactics of "Br'er Possum" in playing dead when he was very much alive.

There are only two kinds of married men in the world. Those who lose their balance and marry; and those who marry and then lose their balance.

Record Crowd Expected Sunday At Benefit Game

Bud Culloton Will Pitch For Colonials Sunday Against the D. and H. Generals—Record Crowd Expected to Turn Out.

Having been inactive for an unusually long stretch the Colonials will be ready for anything that Harry Schemerhorn and his D and H. Generals may offer Sunday afternoon at the "benefit" contest. Besides a long rest the Phelpsmen are as well equipped from the pitching standpoint with Bud Culloton to do the twirling.

It is expected that a large number of fans will pass through the Fair Grounds gates Sunday for besides being the postponed "benefit" contest of a week ago this game is probably one of the hardest the Colonials could stage with the railroaders as their opponents.

Next Sunday the Colonials will wind up their series with this upstate team with a double bill at the Fair Grounds. This will make a total of seven games for the season.

Manager Schemerhorn has a likely staff of pitchers to call upon Sunday with Rossback, Simmons or Hogan ready to go to the mound.

Deserves Support.

The record made by this year's home team is one that will be hard to beat in coming seasons and the managers deserve support for keeping the team intact after the bad breaks they suffered from the standpoint of the box office.

In the last four games rain prevented the staging of the contests, but the rain did not prevent the paying of the guarantee or the players. Although the pay roll of the Colonials is higher this year than other seasons and the number of games played here less, the team has been kept together and the balance of the games for the season will be played. If the games remaining on the schedule are well supported another strong team—possibly the same nine—will be put in the field next year. The managers state that an even break is possible if the remaining games of the season are supported.

Court League Fully Assured

Six Club League Was Formed In Troy With Kingston, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Hudson, Newburgh and Catskill.

The Catskill Daily Mail of Friday's issue states:

Manager Percy Roe, of the Howitzer basketball team, returned from his trip to Troy last night to meet with the other managers of the teams proposing to enter the Hudson River Basketball League, with the information that the League is now definitely assured. The following proceedings took place, the meeting being held at the Hotel Troy:

The meeting was called to order by Capt. Geiser, of Troy, acting as chairman. Managers present listed teams as entries to the League as follows: Amsterdam, Schenectady, Hudson, Catskill, Newburgh and Kingston.

The following officers of the League were elected: Capt. Geiser, Troy, president; George Kaiser, Schenectady, secretary; Percy Roe, Catskill, treasurer; A. Cohen, Newburgh, publicity manager.

A resolution was adopted that an indemnity bond must be filed by each club with the president of the League at the next meeting, as a guarantee of good faith and of fulfilling all the obligations set forth in the laws of the N. Y. State Basketball League.

Lew White and Frank Morgenwick were appointed a committee to draw up and report by-laws for approval at the next meeting.

A resolution was also adopted that each club shall be fully uniformed colors to be white in home play and optional with managers when playing away from home.

A list of referees' names was submitted as follows: Sinnott, Salador, Matthews, Davels and Hubner.

The question of court equipment led to discussion and a compromise decision. The teams having cages without backboards will be Catskill, Hudson and Kingston. Newburgh will have backboards, owing to local arrangements binding the armory court. Amsterdam and Schenectady have open courts with backboards. This equipment cannot be changed at any time except by the approval of President Geiger on two weeks' advance notice.

The limit of players to be carried by clubs as the quota of a team is nine. The number of clubs entered is six, and the time of starting games was fixed as follows: Kingston, 8:45; Amsterdam, 8:45; Hudson, 9:00; Newburgh, 9:20; Catskill, 9:30. All teams must appear on scheduled time, subject to fine for being late.

The season's schedule is to be played in two halves. The winner of the first half must meet the winner of the second half in a series of games to decide the championship. The league season is to begin on or about November 1st. The next league meeting will be held Saturday night, Sept. 25th, at the Hotel Palatine, Newburgh.

The entries of Troy and Cohoes in the league are pending, and will be acted on at the next meeting.

Britain Behind the Times

Britain contains more unclaimed money than any other country in the world. This is due to the complexity of civilization in the islands, the wandering habits of the race and, above all, to the lack of any system of distributing derelict wealth. Such a system exists everywhere else than Britain; but in England, seventeen gold standby recommendations year after year.

Dempsey Fights Opponent's Way

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP).—Self confidence and ring generalship are the prime requisites of a pugilistic champion, in the opinion of Jack Dempsey. Punching strength and physical condition are, of course, necessities, but mastery of mind over an opponent wins many battles that mere punches and shiftiness of foot would lose.

The champion delivered himself of this opinion after his workout yesterday in reply to questioning as to what method of battle he would employ against Gene Tunney in their title fight in Philadelphia September 23. Then the champion made a startling statement.

"I always fight the other fellow's way," he said. "I figure if I'm champion I ought to be good enough to match any style of fighting that is put before me. If I fought in the same manner each fight some clever fellow would be able to fathom the weak points in that style and beat me. And there are, of course, weak points in any manner of fighting. Therefore I always let the other fellow start something and I try my best to finish it like he started it."

It is the belief of Dempsey that if you immediately show your opponent you are willing to fight his way then prove to him you are a better man at that style you will discourage and dishearten him. That, he declared, is the easiest way he knows to make an opening in an opponent's defense. Then comes the coup de grace.

Dempsey recalled that ever since he has been champion he has fought the same way his opponents did. Against Georges Carpentier he stood flatfooted crouching toe to toe, and slambanged with both fists. Georges delivered his best punch to Dempsey's jaw and it failed to fell the champion. Dempsey's punches had another effect as history records.

Against the clever Tom Gibbons, Dempsey boxed—brought all his knowledge of fistic stuff and foot work and ring trickery to bear and it was better than Gibbons's. Against Bill Brennan the champion fought a standup fight and finally got his man. Against Luis Firpo the world champion fought a slugging match—the only style known to the Argentine—and though he came near defeat, the champion survived.

Tunney's Boxing Program Reduced

Stroudsburg, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP).—Gene Tunney's boxing program was ordered reduced to four rounds today, the plan for reducing the work of the challenger to guard against the possibility of too fine an edge being drawn thus early in the game of conditioning. He has been going six rounds each afternoon and much of the time in Speculator he boxed eight rounds.

Tunney himself is satisfied with his condition at the moment. Lou Fink, his trainer, and Billy Gibson, his manager, share his satisfaction. All agree that he could not be better. To keep him so is the object of the trio from now on.

The best equipment Tunney boasts now is his mental condition. He is confident that he will win the world's heavyweight championship from Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia, September 23. Satisfied that he will be at his best the night of the fight, his announced conclusions are that if such is the case he will win. Tunney does not believe that Dempsey's sledgehammer blows can hurt him, for he has convinced himself that he can "take it". He also believes that he can hit hard enough to knock out Dempsey. The challenger expects to win and by a knockout.

Fink, the trainer who has spent his life within hearing distance of the thud of failing bodies and knows the challenger better than anyone connected with the boxing game, thinks many of the experts who come and look do not see, as they scoff at the way Tunney works.

"Gene couldn't be better," said Fink today.

He is just exactly right, physically and mentally for a championship fight and I am sure that from now on, all we have to do is to keep in just that shape.

Boxing Bouts Next Thursday

Another boxing program in the Fair Grounds open-air arena is being planned for Thursday night of next week which is predicted to be equally as big a hit as was the last one, which eclipsed all previous smokers this summer. The full card has not been arranged as yet but there will be six or seven first rate bouts on the program.

One bout is certain for this coming affair, the scrap between Vince Hart of East Kingston and Jay Pike of Newburgh. Pike became sick at the eleventh hour before the last smoker and could not fight Hart but challenged him to a bout at this smoker.

Joe Werner and Johnny Carpino are on the program for six rounds and Joe Cornelle of Port Ewen will meet Jimmy Lawrence of Highland for four rounds. Frenchy De Wigg will also be on the program but his opponent has not been selected as yet. The card will no doubt be completed early next week. A battle royal will also be staged.

Working Our Literature

Who says this generation isn't through? First, we read a story in the magazine, then we read it in book form, then we rent it in the movies, then somebody comes around lecturing about it.—Butte Daily Post.

We thought the public knew —

Every day we hear of people who, after buying other makes of cars, have said they wish they had known about Auburn first.

They frankly say they admired the Auburn the most and knew of its wonderful quality reputation, but they never investigated because they thought the price was from $3000 to $5000.

Auburn HAS a standing second to none among the highest priced cars—

Auburn HAS everything that money can buy—

But the Auburn Eight IS THE LOWEST PRICED CAR COMMENSURATE WITH QUALITY IN THE WORLD TODAY.

The enthusiasm of Auburn owners increases in proportion to the length of time they have driven their cars.

One prominent manufacturer in Cleveland who has owned 34 cars ranging in price from $9000 to $4000 says his Auburn Eight is the "greatest of them all" (name upon request). And that is but one of thousands of equally emphatic testimonials of Auburn's outstanding superiority.

The reasons the Auburn car is so talked about and admired ARE ALL IN THE CAR ITSELF.

Drive it—compare it—and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy.

THE PICTURE—"MORALS OF MEN."

40 Out For K.H.S. Eleven

A Larger Number Is Expected to Answer Call of Coach O'Leary for Practice With the High School Grid Team.

Forty candidates have reported for practice at the three workouts of the K. H. S. grid squad which have been held the past week. Enthusiasm in the gridiron sport appears to be soaring high among the Maroon and White athletes this season with a still greater number expected to come on Monday. But on the other hand Coach O'Leary needs as much material as available to shape his 1926 team from, for the first match is but two weeks away. September 25 is the opening date with Morris High of New York city at the Athletic Field.

The first call for candidates was given on Wednesday and following school forty aspirants of the game turned out. Coach O'Leary at this meeting talked to the team of the opportunities this season and spoke to the men on the football rules.

Thursday the squad was taken outside for the first workout which was held on the Athletic Field. Practice consisted of running the ball up and down the field and a general warming up. Friday night the local mentor gave his men work in using signals and in all was quite a stern workout. But the real muscle hardening work will not begin until this coming week.

Ernest Smith who was elected captain of the '26 team will not be available owing to his scholastic standing. Emerson Davis who captained the team last year also will not be available for this reason. Coach O'Leary has just two able and experienced men in a Duso League rule which requires that a football team have twelve and a half new players to be eligible. A new captain will be elected some day this coming week.

Yellow Jackets Had Ten Men Out

Real intensive work was the watchword of Coach Preston at a workout of the "Yellow Jackets" at the Athletic Field Friday evening, although but ten of the squad were able to attend this practice.

With but a week away before the "Yellow Jackets" play their first Hudson Valley Professional Football League contest, Coach Preston will give his men the most strenuous work possible during the coming week. Practice Friday evening consisted of falling on the ball drill in tackling. Line work was also part of the evening's training.

Those present were: Clark, Hoffman, McLane, Mahoney, Scheffel, Crouse, Rice, O'Reilly, L.; Shultis and Colvin. The next practice will be held Sunday morning at the Athletic Field at 9 o'clock. In the event that rain prevents the scheduled outdoor practices short meetings will be held in the Y. M. C. A.

Season tickets are now on sale by every member of the squad, Manager Edward Redhead or at the Y. M. C. A.

BUFFALO BISONS ARE NOW HITTING .300

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—As the season wanes in the International League, the Buffalo Bisons are establishing themselves as the batting champions of the circuit despite the fact that in the past week the club has dropped from second to fourth place in the standing. The Thundering Herd added another point to their total and now are hitting for .299.

Usually when a young man isn't satisfied with the work he's doing his boss isn't either.

FALL COATS OFFER A MULTITUDE OF IDEAS, AND SEVERAL SILHOUETTES—LININGS INCLINE TOWARD WARMTH AND INCLUDE FUR.

An acceptance of bloused and dolman lines must first of all be reported. Coats take on both of these lines, are inclined to be belted, have some new and arresting collar treatments, and are first and last highly colored. These seem the dominating influences at work. Yet it may seem something like a contradiction to bring to mind the interesting fact that Bechoff launched not only gray coats, but gray furs when his collection was shown to that great buying fraternity which twice yearly, sometimes oftener, crosses the Atlantic to see what Paris offers.

Fur-lined coats are again smart and offer a solution to the woman who finds a new fur coat out of the question. Collars have a tendency to climb rather than spread, fur revers are ultra chic, and the cloth fur-trimmed coat survives. One gains additional warmth by using kasha or velvet as a lining—duvetyn, too, for that matter. There is, of course, additional warmth in the coat which has a cape to the hip, as many of the smartest have.

The Dolman and the Blouse Are Combined in This Model Accented by Straight Wide Sleeves. The Coat Is Green Trimmed With Squirrel Fur and Embroidered in Silver and Gray.

More timely perhaps than a discussion of fur coats at this time is the report that rubberized crepes make the Parisienne's rain coat. With continental weather what it has been this year, a raincoat is a necessity as well as in their new guise at least, a delight.

Some attention is paid to the ensemble costume, the coat as a rule being shorter than the dress. But then one coat serves many with several frocks. Contrast is the order of the day, thus appropriate aids to plaid and plain materials a hasty autumn selection.

The Frankly-Bloused Silhouette is the Most Impressive of All Fall Tendencies, Even Those Which Indicate a More Elaborate Standard.

Shirrings Enter Largely Into the Scheme of Things. Chanel Has Started a Vogue for Shirrings Which Is Capable of Great Diversity.

In the lively discussion of style which is going on all about us, the term "frankly bloused" stands out as being descriptive of a great majority of the models which have arrived from the French houses. There is a sophisticated nonchalance about the new silhouette which one suspects is difficult to produce unless by the best cutters and fitters—the sort of simplicity which is not simplicity at all, and is costly to boot.

There has been repeated mention of shirring; the models themselves bear testimony to the fact that its importance has not been over-advertised. Without such means of introducing fullness as pleats and shirrings produce, perhaps the line would not have wandered so far from its accustomed straight and narrowness. Just now one feels drawn to the ampler lines, the softening details, and the amusing tendency to contradict one's day clothes by what one wears in the evening.

Sports clothes naturally continue to be important and can not fail to exercise an influence over what smart woman want for day wear. For evening, it is a different matter. One succumbs to the lure of lace, the femininity of velvet, and the charm of the period, or robe de style, including those inspired by the Italian renaissance.

The elegance of velvet, alone or in combination with lame or metal brocade, presages a rather formal season. The return of much elaborate embroidery, of paillettes and new motifs in beading, gives further evidence of a trend toward extravagance, which is perhaps more noticeable in evening wraps than in all else. By day the well-dressed woman is inclined toward tailored simplicity.

KINGSTON, N. Y., SEPT. 11, 1926

The expressed admiration for poison gas by some of the Government chemists is enthusiastic enough almost to convey the impression that they regard it as a sort of soothing syrup which soldiers and non-combatants alike ought to be eager to swallow after experience with the first dose.

Had there ever been any doubt as to the attitude of President Coolidge toward Senator Wadsworth it would be dispelled by the reference the President made in a speech in the National Republican Club when he said he "rejoiced with the people of New York in having a senator of unexcelled capacity in the halls of Congress."

According to a recent despatch from Berlin, the former Kaiser has magnanimously declared his willingness to cede to the Prussian State those of his castles and estates which have an historic, educational or cultural value. At this distance it looks as if the magnanimity (or folly) is the Prussian State's or Germany's—in permitting a deposed monarch to retain ownership in a republic of some sixty-odd castles and other vast property.

Several more or less mature ladies have been elected as Governors or Congressmen—in the majority of cases to take the place of their deceased, impeached or imprisoned husbands But even in these times it is hardly expected that very young girls, even if not of the flapper variety, would be similarly favored Now, however, we read that Washington, Wis., by a vote of two to one, has elected a 23-year-old girl as city treasurer. No doubt she is an exceptionally capable young miss—but after this we may as well be prepared for anything.

Granges throughout the country are taking a strong forward step by condemning raffles, all games of chance and similar features as a means of entertainment and money-raising at their fairs, bazars, etc. Some State Granges have specifically outlawed questionable features of all sorts and hold their subordinates to a strict observance of the law; and sentiment in this direction is growing very fast among the Granges. Inasmuch as this organization of farmers holds more than 200,000 meetings in the United States every year, it is easy to see that such a decision, regarding games of chance and gambling schemes, will have a far-reaching influence.

It has been said that modern society is most decayed at its two extremes, the top and the bottom. Granting this to be true, it follows that there is little hope of reform at the bottom until there has been reform at the top. There is widespread public concern over the great increase of crime in the lower ranks of society, and there are many demands that something effective be done to check it, severer penalties to act as a deterrent being urged; but there seems to be but a languid interest, if any active interest at all, in the crimes, the graft, the self-seeking fraud committed higher up. Yet if the higher class wrong doers are allowed to escape, what hope is there of dealing effectively with the lower class?

HARDLY FLATTERING.

It was hardly flattering to this country, the home of the pioneers in aviation, to read that, not an American, but a Frenchman, Captain Rene Fonck, was to undertake the first non-stop flight from New York to Paris. It was still less flattering to read later of a quarrel as to which American airman should have the honor of taking the trip with and under the daring French ace. It seems that Lieut. Allen B. Snoddy was selected or invited by Captain Fonck to enjoy second rank on his airship, but Captain Homer H. Berry, U. S. A., a ten per cent stockholder in the backing corporation, craved a share in the Frenchman's glory also, and "threatened to ask an injunction to prevent the flight unless he was taken along." And so there was actual danger that the proposed great non-stop transatlantic flight might "end in court instead of in Paris."

Doubtless the matter has been or will be arranged, but the affair would have placed the aviators of this country in an unenviable position even if it did not emphasize French air supremacy more than ever. It calls further attention to the fact that French aviators are supreme both in non-stop flight and, in altitude, and that this country is behind half a dozen others both in passenger and freight-carrying aviation. Though we were the pioneers, we have allowed other nations to get ahead of us in aviation, and it could hardly help matters to embarrass Captain Fonck and quarrel for the opportunity to secure a very small share of his glory.

NEW TREATMENT FOR BURNS.

Some time ago I spoke about accompanying a railway surgeon on his rounds after a severe wreck. The fireman on one engine was badly burned, but appeared to be in good condition and spirits, as his family were grouped about him The surgeon simply remarked "He can't live, his burns are too extensive, about half the surface area of his body is badly burned."

His prediction was unfortunately verified within the next 36 hours The cause of death is shock from the absorption of poisons from the burned surface.

However a Detroit physician, Dr Davidson, has been reviving a method of treatment which was used to a slight extent by some of our older surgeons, and more recently during the war.

The treatment is the application of tannic acid, a two to five per cent solution in water, which is painted over the entire surface of the burn. The parts are covered with a thin layer of gauze kept constantly wet, for a period of from one to two days, when all dressings are removed, and the burned surface is exposed to the air. The result is a tanned "skin," which gradually sloughs off in large pieces, which are snipped day by day, thus keeping the part dry. There is relief from pain as soon as the application of tannic acid is made. When we remember that formerly only heavy doses of morphine have been able to relieve the pain, we can see what a tremendous advantage is thus gained.

The healing takes place under a sort of dry scab, and the scar tissue afterwards is not so tough and fibrous.

The other serious thing shock, from absorption of broken down tissue, is prevented, because this tissue is thrown off as a dry slough. This treatment has been tried out in one of the Toronto hospitals, under Dr Cameron, the same physician who demonstrated the benefits of chloride of lime in old sores and ulcers.

He had twenty cases, and every one showed wonderful results from the use of the tannic acid.

The results were only obtained however by the very thorough work of faithful nurses, working in relays, who kept the dressings wet for the necessary time.

When we remember that previously all cases where a third to a half the surface was severely burned, died within forty eight hours, it is certainly gratifying to note the success of this new treatment.

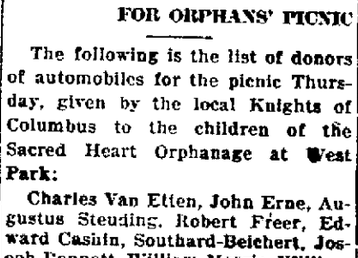
RAILROAD EFFICIENCY.

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 11 (Special)—The railroads are having their day. Estimates of the 1926 share earnings of the 40 leading railroads show that only three of the forty are expected to earn less this year than they did in 1925. Actual results for the 12-months' period ended July 31, 1926, show that only seven of the forty leading railroads showed earnings smaller than actual 1925 results. Freight car loadings are holding up above the million-cars-a-week class; 1926 running over 3 per cent above 1925 and 10 per cent above 1924.



One reason for the present day success of our railroads is the greater efficiency shown in management as well as in labor. This is well illustrated in the average freight train speed, which, for the year 1927, was 13 8 miles per hour, and 10 per cent higher than the 10.9 miles per hour in 1923. Increased efficiency gives increased service which is the biggest factor in creating good will and business.

Another Kind of Chow, Sir

One of our English literature professors, whose name we omit to all kindness withheld, was negotiating for some time with a native literary club in Natal, about a lecture on Chaucer, on whom he was a distinguished authority. They finally wrote, "We have decided to have a substantial supper instead."—The Morning Lamposts.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Author)

Decisive Battle on Water and Land at Plattsburg Ended, September 11, 1814.

When General George Izard, the successor of General James Wilkinson, in command of the Army of the North, marched from Lake Champlain for Sacket Harbor, in August, 1814, he left 1,500 regulars there under command of General Alexander Macomb.

During the spring and summer of that year both armies had been busy in the preparation of war vessels on Lake Champlain. The American squadron was in charge of Captain Thomas Macdonough, and was ready for service at the middle of August. He commanded 3,400 men all told, and had completed redoubts, blockhouses and other works for defense, and had taken measures to prevent expected invaders from Canada crossing the Saranac River.

Macdonough learned that fifteen thousand of Wellington's veterans were at Montreal, under the command of Sir George Prevost, the Governor-General of Canada, who was preparing to invade the State of New York.

At the beginning of September Prevost, with fourteen thousand men, penetrated to a point a few miles from Plattsburg. He avowed his intention to seize and hold Northern New York as far south as Ticonderoga, and by proclamation called upon the inhabitants to cast off their allegiance to their government and to furnish him with supplies. General De Rottenburg was his second in command. At the same time the British flotilla, under Captain Pringle, came out of the Sorel River, moved into Lake Champlain, under the general command of Commodore Downie.

On the morning of September 6 Prevost advanced upon Plattsburg in two columns. One of these encountered and had a skirmish at Beekmantown with a small force of regulars under Major John E. Wool, the hero of Queenstown. The Americans were pressed back by overwhelming numbers, and retired to the south side of the Saranac, tearing up the bridges behind them and using the timbers for breastworks.

In trying to force their way across the Saranac the British were repulsed by a company of volunteers in a strong stone mill. Prevost now perceived he was not on a pleasant holiday excursion and halted for the arrival of batteries and supply trains, and for the constructoin of works.

Meanwhile the British naval force appeared off Cumberland Head, at the entrance to Plattsburg Bay, in which lay Macdonough's squadron. The British land and naval forces began an attack on the morning of September 11.

Macdonough had skillfully prepared his vessels for action, and when all was in readiness he knelt on the deck of the "Saratoga," and implored the aid of the Almighty. His officers were around him, and very soon the guns of both squadrons opened, and a sharp naval action began. The battle lasted two hours and twenty minutes, and ended in a complete victory for the Americans. Both squadrons were dreadfully shattered. The Americans lost 110 men, the British more than 200. Among the latter was Commodore Downie, who was killed, and his remains were buried at Plattsburg.

While this naval battle was raging, there was a sharp conflict on the land at Plattsburg.

The British troops had attempted to force their way across the Saranac at two places, but were repulsed by gallant regulars and militia under Macomb and Mooers. Some of the British had crossed the stream, and the Americans were driving them back, when Hiram Walworth (afterward Chancellor of New York) dashed up, his horse flecked with foam, and announced that the British fleet had just surrendered. The Americans gave three cheers, which the British understood indicated good news, and their line wavered.

The timid Prevost, notified of the disaster on the lake, saw with alarm the rapid gathering of the neighboring militia on his flanks and rear, and sounded a retreat. At midnight he fled toward Canada in such haste that he left his sick and wounded and a vast amount of valuable stores behind.

The pursuit was begun, but heavy rains compelled them to give up the chase. The British lost 2,500 men, the Americans less than 150.

The whole country rang with praises of Macomb and Macdonough, the chief leaders in the battles at Plattsburg, and they became the recipients of high honors and of solid rewards. The state of New York honored them both with substantial gifts and Congress gave to each the thanks of the nation and a gold medal.

Fun's Runs With Train

For three miles a steer ran ahead of a logging train at Kinmount, Ont., racing over the ties in glare of the headlight. Later the engineer learned that the fun had been at the expense of a steer which, having escaped from a logging train, had escaped from a logging train and was worth about $1,000.

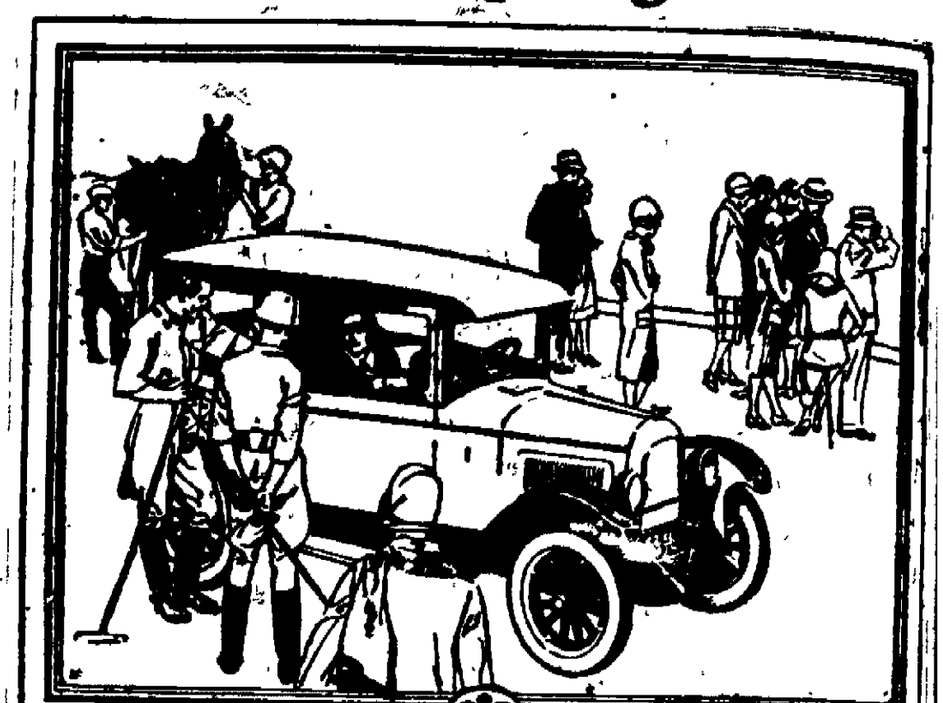
America has its first high-speed European-type Light Car



THE Whippet is the first American light car designed to meet modern traffic conditions.

A car engineered specifically for parking at jammed curbs—for lightning get-away at congested traffic crossings—for instant stopping in pedestrian-crowded city streets. It will pickup in 13 seconds from 5 to 30 miles an hour. It will stop in 51 feet from a speed of 40 miles an hour. It will turn in a 34-foot circle—park in a 14-foot curb space.

30 miles on a gallon of gasoline...55 miles an hour...5 to 30 miles in 13 seconds...4-wheel brakes...stops in 51 feet from 40 miles an hour ...turns in 34-foot circle

4-wheel brakes are an integral part of this new car's chassis design . . . a necessity that light car owners have not heretofore enjoyed.

In fairness to yourself, come, see this wonderful new-type car.

Coolidge Studies Farm Relief

Has Given Question Serious Thought But Has No Definite Plan—Will Spend Last Sunday In Adirondacks Quietly.

Paul Smith's N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP). President Coolidge has not planned for any particular form of farm relief legislation, although he is giving consideration to all the many proposals that have been made to him since the last session of congress.

He has given the question serious study, it was said in his behalf at the executive offices yesterday, but his considerations have not progressed so far as to enable him to draft a measure to give addditional assistance to the farmer or to favor any particular kind of draft.

Several of Mr. Coolidge's vacation callers have discussed the agricultural situation with him, the more recent having been W. I. Drummond of Kansas City, chairman of the American Farm Congress, who has framed a measure providing for government aid in disposing of basic surplus crops through farmers' co-operative organizations. There are indications, however, that the president has formed a conclusive opinion regarding Mr. Drummond's proposal.

The departure of Attorney-General John G Sargent to his home in Ludlow, Vt., yesterday, after a visit at White Pine Camp left the President and Mrs Coolidge without guests. There were no callers scheduled for today and it was expected that they would spend their last Sunday in the Adirondacks quietly, in the company of their son, John.

40th Anniversary Of German Auto

Students Celebrate Occasion By Driving Original Machine From School Museum 270 Miles to Home of Inventor—Americans Use Eight Quart Steins of Beer.

Berlin, Sept. 11 (AP)—The fortieth anniversary of the invention of the German automobile was fittingly celebrated by students of Hannover Tech. They hauled out the original machine from the school museum, filled the tank with gas and drove 270 miles from Hannover to the home of Dr Karl Benz, the inventor, in Landenburg. Dr. Benz is now eighty-three years old.

The trip was made without a single mishap. The car at times attained a speed of twenty-one miles an hour with two passengers. Instead of the skeptical jeers which greeted Dr. Benz on his first ride in the same car, the student drivers received an ovation along the route. Tears were in the aged inventor's eyes and thousands of his townspeople cheered as the machine chugged up and stopped in front of his house.

Eleanor Patterson, young diva daughter of Joseph Medill Patterson, Chicago newspaper publisher, has been given the title of the "millionaire nun" in Germany.

Miss Patterson played the nun in "The Miracle" at the Salsburg festival plays. She arrived with two limousines, 34 trunks, a retinue of servants and occupied a suite of eight rooms in a hotel. Lady Diana Manners played the Madonna in "The Miracle" at last year's festivals.

The Hofbrau House, which the Bavarian government recently established in Berlin to sell high-powered Bavarian beer to Berliners, has drawn unfavorable comment because of the size of its beer mugs. There are steins holding eight quarts. They are intended for family parties at which the stein is passed from one member to the other, children and adults alike each taking a swallow to the health of the others. It is complained that visitors, especially Americans, frequently insist upon testing capacities by ordering an eight-quart stein for themselves with the result that waiters have a hard time colecting the bills.

American travelers, unaccustomed to sleeping on feather beds with wedged-shaped bolsters beneath their pillows, have described the first night in a German hotel as a struggle to escape suffocation. A Berlin hotel is now supplying guests with cards upon which are described half a dozen ways of making up a bed. If an American wants to sleep in American style, he checks the proper diagram on the card and leaves it to the chambermaid to do the rest.

Dr Otto Fischer, director of the State Art Gallery at Stuttgart, has been made honorary advisor of the Chinese federal museums and art galleries with headquarters at Peking. As such he has access to the costliest collection of Chinese art and antiquities in the world, an honor which it is claimed has not been achieved by any other European or American. Dr. Fischer is on a year's study tour of China and Japan.

Baden-Baden is still the most popular German health resort for Americans. Eighty percent of the guests at the two leading hotels in the Black Forest city this summer are Americans. There has been an average of 1,500 Americans a month taking the cure.

Morgan Hill, Sept. 11.—School opened last Tuesday with Mrs. [illegible] as teacher.

Miss Anna Ferro and cousins, who have spent the summer with Miss Ferro, Sr., have returned to their home in Stroudsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Max Ferro, mother of Max Ferro of Pine Crest Park, also her son, Henry Ferro, with wife and daughter, all of the Bronx, N. Y., have been spending their vacation here.

Miss Jennie C. Fischer, teacher in the Consolidation School, New [illegible], spent a few days here work at the home of the H[illegible] Teller.

Crowded School Conditions

being held June 20-24, as previously arranged for, they will occur June 13-17.

Baccalaureate address June 19, instead of June 26.

Final closing of school June 21 instead of June 26.

High school commencement June 21 instead of June 26.

Grade school graduation June 22, instead of June 28.

The board's attention was called to the fact that the boys engaged in athletics made a habit of loitering around the building and in the locker room after 6 p. m., which makes it difficult for the janitors. It was then decided by the board to give power to Superintendent Michael who will see that the coach stays with the boys until they are ready to leave the locker room and the hour set for closing the school was 5:30 p. m.

Changes in Teaching Staff.

The teachers' committee submitted the following report which was approved:

Your teachers' committee respectfully reports that Miss Agnes Smith who was offered a contract as teacher of history in the high school in place of Miss Marion Bigelow, resigned, was unable to secure a release from her contract at Glens Falls. We have therefore secured in her place as teacher of history, Miss Ruth Lutz at a salary of $1,600. Miss Lutz is a graduate of Syracuse University with the degree of B. A. and M. A. She has had two years' successful experience in the Whitney Point High School.

We have also received the resignation of Miss Caroline Whiting, teacher of French and English in the high school. In her place we have secured the services of Miss Irene Gaingell at a salary of $1,600 per year. Miss Gaingell is a graduate of the State College for teachers at Albany and has had two years' exeprience in the high school at Fonda, N. Y.

We farther report the resignation of Miss Anna Gallagher, teacher of the 1-B grade in School No. 2. In her place we have secured the services of Ethel M Schafer at a salary of $1,000. Miss Schafer is a graduate of the Kingston High School and the New Paltz State Normal School. She has had about ten weeks of observation work in the schools of this city during her senior year at the New Paltz Normal School during which period she did some substitute teaching.

We also report that due to serious illness in his family Leonard H. Stine employed as musical director, found it necessary to tender his resignation which has been accepted. In his place we have secured the services of George A. Webster at a salary of $2,000 per year, the same as that of Mr. Stine. Mr. Webster is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, has had post graduate work in music at Columbia University and has had several years of successful experience in directing music of public schools and in private teaching.

School Enrollment to Date.

Superintendent Michael submitted the following report:

I respectfully report that the schools opened according to schedule on Tuesday morning of this week. At the principals' meeting in this office on Wednesday afternoon, the registration was reported to me as follows:

School No. 1	85
2	370
3	289
4	352
5	460
6	478
7	432
8	461
High School	938

The registration last year on the eighth day of September was 3,890. On account of the Jewish holidays this week, a considerable number of children had not registered at the time of the principals' meeting. I am of the opinion that on Monday morning the registration will be increased by more than one hundred pupils.

I have inspected the school buildings and find that the flag poles contracted for have been erected; that the electrical work at schools Nos. 7 and 6 is finished; that all the interior painting of the schools arranged for by your building committee has been done; that all of the buildings have been thoroughly cleaned and are in sanitary condition. The improvements at No. 5 are progressing satisfactorily and in all probability will be finished on or before the first of October. These improvements will place that building in such a sanitary condition as will make for the comfort of pupils and teachers. The new toilets are well lighted, thoroughly ventilated and easily accessible to the occupants of the building.

Respectfully submitted,
M. J. MICHAEL,
Superintendent of Schools.
Kingston, N. Y., September 10, 1926.

The board then adjourned.

Big Enrollment At Paltz Normal

The New Paltz Independent and Times states:

The Normal School opened on Wednesday. Up to Thursday morning the enrollment for the Normal department alone had reached 400, with more students constantly coming in.

Last year's record shows 316 Normals registered at the close of the opening day. In 1924 the enrollment of Normal students was 303. In 1921 there were 300 Normal students, which means that the Normal department has more than doubled in size during the three years that Dr. van den Berg has been principal.

The Week In Wall Street

New York, Sept. 11 (AP)—The stock market floundered around within a comparatively narrow trading area this week. Trading was largely of a professional character, with the volume of business restricted by the observance of the Jewish holidays by many traders and the approach of the third quarterly income tax, dividend and interest dates.

Public participation was reported by the larger commission houses to be on a small scale.

While current earnings and sales furnished cumulative evidence of prosperity in many lines of business the credit situation was still a source of uneasiness as evidenced by the manner in which stocks sold off on rumors that the Boston and New York Federal Reserve Banks would increase their rediscount rates, which proved to be unfounded. The weekly statement of the combined Federal Reserve Banks showed that total rediscounts were well below those of the corresponding period last year. An increase of over $144,000,000 in loans of stock exchange members last month brought the total above the $3,000,000,000 mark for the first time since last spring.

The monthly report of the United States Steel Corporation issued yesterday, showed a drop of slightly more than 50,000 tons in unfilled orders last month. Mill operations, however, are being maintained at an unusually high rate, with prospects of fall business considered favorable. The steady increase in crude oil production probably accounts for the sluggishness of the oil shares. The report of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, estimating that the supply of domestic crude in proven fields would be exhausted in six years, aroused widespread discussion in oil circles and was interpreted as bullish on stocks of companies owning large acreage in productive territory.

Railroad shares continued to attract widespread speculative and investment interest, scores of new high records being established in that group. Special strength developed in Chesapeake and Ohio, Kansas City Southern, Great Northern preferred and Chicago and Northwestern. Good buying also developed in railroad equipment shares, particularly Pullman which soared to the highest level since 1920, on rumors of special dividend distribution.

Coppers and sugars showed temporary outbursts of strength on reports of improved trade conditions. General Motors sold at the highest level in a month or more with trading again in heavy volume, but Mack Trucks and some of the low priced motors were conspicuously heavy.

Among the specialties which stood out was Warner Pictures A, which soared to a record high level at 57½ on buying influenced by the success of the company's new talking motion picture and the announcement that theatres for its presentation had been leased in Atlantic City, Chicago and other cities.

Church Council Elects Officers

At the regular monthly meeting of the Church Council of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, the following three new councilmen—John Bittner, 32 Newkirk avenue; Charles Baxter, 37 First avenue, and Albert Marks, 514 Delaware avenue—were elected to succeed the three who resigned, and whose resignations were accepted with regret.

The chair appointed Edward Gill of 292 East Chester street, chairman of the finance committee, which consists of Edward Gill, William Walter, Peter Kuhmann, Edward Rohlus and Harry Paulus. Edward Snyder withdrew from this committee because his hours of employment prevented him from attending the meetings regularly.

The pastor reported that he would read a paper at the Albany Conference in Castleton on September 27 and 28, entitled "Economy and Efficiency in the Church." He promised to read it at some future meeting of the Council, too.

EVANGELISTIC MEETING FOR COLORED PEOPLE

The Rev C. Henry King, pastor of the Union Baptist Church of Watervliet, N. Y., and who resides at Albany where for some time he has faithfully and successfully labored among the colored people in that section and after presenting the gospel to the people so enthused them that they erected a church at Watervliet, has at the earnest solicitation of the colored Baptists of this city, of whom there are a large number, consented to conduct services here on Sunday, September 12, and has been successful in securing for his opening service the Cordts building on lower Hasbrouck avenue.

All of his denomination and color are cordially invited to attend divine service at 11 o'clock on Sunday.

As the Rev. Mr. King is an earnest, eloquent and interesting speaker it is earnestly hoped by those promoting this project that a large number will be present to hear him.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Sept. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis and daughter Alberta and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gillespie left Saturday morning for a motor trip to Thousand Islands. Mrs. Oscar Hornbeck is visiting her son, Jesse Hornbeck, at Lakewood, N. J.

Frank Davis is on a fishing trip.

The entertainment held in the Grange Hall last Thursday night for the benefit of the library was a great success.

Insurance Advertising

"The carrying out of a well-planned and capably-managed nation-wide campaign of NEWSPAPER CONSUMER ADVERTISING, participated in by the fire, casualty and stock insurance companies, and participated in locally, as would inevitably occur, by a fair proportion of the local agents, would be of benefit to—

The companies, because it would open the way to hundreds of millions of dollars of additional premium income, and would at the same time interpret to the public a great business of which they are largely ignorant and therefore suspicious.

The agents, for exactly the same reasons.

The public, who would benefit enormously by the larger spread of insurance protection, thereby lessening the economic dangers of contingency and chance"—Charles H. Holland, President, Independence Indemnity Co., in an address before Insurance Advertising Conference, June 22, 1926.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

PETER GNOME

Peter Gnome put on his invisible robe and went to see some of his friends.

He Was Not Sleepy.

He saw Teddy's new bicycle standing outside Teddy's house and he saw Teddy's sister waiting by it for her lesson.

She was learning to ride her brother's bicycle, but couldn't as yet turn around. It was really hard to balance.

Then he saw Molly, who had been losing her temper so much lately without meaning to lose it at all, and she was thinking to herself how the mean speeches had crowded to the tip of her tongue and had all been said.

The way to do, she said to herself, was not to let such a crowd of mean speeches get to the tip of one's tongue.

Then so many of them would not fall off and be spoken.

He saw a farmyard where a pig and a dog were friends and he saw a strange dog come along and the pig did not understand it because the strange dog did not want to associate and play with a pig.

Nor did the dog that was the friend of the pig feel like playing with another dog.

In fact, the dog and the pig were such friends they felt far more companionable than two pigs would have felt, or than two dogs would have felt.

Then Peter Gnome saw his little friend Buddy, who was playing with a toy automobile and who did not want to go to bed.

He was telling his daddy that he was not sleepy, nor was his car sleepy.

He was waiting for the time to come when he would be given a bigger car for he could not sit in his little toy one and he did want one to sit in so he could play automobiling much better.

But the little toy one was fun and he liked it once in a while.

But mostly he liked to sing songs to himself; early in the mornings was when his voice was at its best.

He sang fine songs he had heard and had been taught and also many that he made up himself.

Then Peter went and saw Major, the police dog. Major had the best of manners, and during the summer some of the dogs of friends of Major's owner had asked if their dogs could associate with Major and learn to have the same wonderful manners Major had.

So Major taught manners!

He was in charge of a big black dog, a little black dog, two brown dogs, and a younger one of his own kind.

There were also some cats around, a little black cat with green eyes and a green collar and a big black cat with green eyes and a green collar.

Both the cats smelt like dogs for they were around with dogs all the time.

Major showed the other police dog how he must not pull when he was on a leash, for, as Major showed, it was very bad for a dog's wind pipe to pull.

Greatly Admired Major.

But Major was not too severe.

And he would lick the cats with his tongue, and the dogs, too, to show that he thought they were doing well.

Peter Gnome greatly admired Major.

In fact, Peter Gnome thought there was no more fun to be had than by putting on his invisible robe so he could not be seen by people, but yet see what was going on in the world.

Forget the Door

Willie's mother was entertaining her club and had sent Willie outdoors with instructions that when he was tired of playing he should come quickly in the back door.

In the middle of the afternoon the front doorbell rang. There stood Willie, muddy of shoes and dirty of face.

"Mother," he said worriedly, "which door was it you told me to come in at?"

Then Went His Bike

Tommy, one out of three brothers of a new baby sister, said to his father: "Say, daddy, how much did the baby cost you—about a hundred dollars?"

His father solemnly answered, "Ten, almost that much," and Tommy sorrowfully turned away, saying: "Well, there goes the bike."

The McDougal Cabinet For Kitchens

Is not the cheapest Kitchen Cabinet in the country, but it is the best. It is constructed with more care than any other cabinet, and it is better finished. We know this to be true as we have sold the other prominent makes at various times and found most of them lacking in workmanship. The McDougal cabinet sells from $55.00 to $95.00, and the terms are $10.00 cash payment and $10.00 per month.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN

(Contributed.)

Ulster county has lost during the past week one of her native and successful daughters in the person of Miss Frances Irene Vosburgh. She was cut off from the sphere of her usefulness in mid life, in the very height of a successful career in New York city.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Stanley R. Vosburgh, and was born in Shady, Ulster county. She was graduated from the old Kingston Academy and thereafter studied art, and was graduated from the Central College Institute of Rochesterville, N. Y., where she specialized in music, graduating with high honors.

For a time after leaving her alma mater she was an instructor in music, but after a time the lure of business attracted her and she was employed by the Chase National Bank in New York city. There she rose in time to a position of great responsibility, trust and confidence in the Coupon Pay Division, which she held at the time of her sudden demise.

The esteem in which she was held by the officers of the bank, her fellow employees and countless friends in New York city and Ulster county, was evidenced by the magnificent floral tributes which filled the living room of her mother's home at Shady where the funeral services were conducted on Wednesday last.

Limehouse Lizzie Is London Leader

She Heads Feminine Robber Gang Whose Members Are Well Educated—English Eating Champion Declines to Visit United States—Other Interesting Events in Britain.

London, Sept 11 (AP).—When is a man grown up? Not until he is 26, says the London General Omnibus Company, which employs several thousand drivers and conductors in covering the London area with its network of speedy bus services.

The company believes that youths normally develop their sense of responsibility to full pitch between the ages of 24 and 26 and it will not accept as drivers men who have not reached the lattter age.

"We do not say anything against the young man of 24," says one of the chiefs of the selection staff. "We choose men of that age to fill vacancies as conductors. But we will not take them as drivers until they are 26."

American negro melodies have been introduced into the musical program of the old Southwark Cathedral, just across London Bridge on the south side of the Thames. Noonday recitals are given there for the benefit of the porters at the hops market and other workers from nearby establishments

The selections are from the "negro spirituals" or plantation hymns, and are expected to prove a potent drawing card for luncheon hour audiences in this busy district

George Leader, the 238 pound eating contest champion of Middlesbrough, has declined an invitation to visit the United States and take part in a world's championship event. Pressure of business in this line at home is the reason, he says.

"I have two matches on hand," he explained, "and I want to get these over before I consider any more."

Leader has won all thirteen matches in which he has been engaged in the last few years. He will be heavily handicapped in his next match by having to eat a pound of broiled ham and a dozen eggs before his opponent starts. Nevertheless, he is confident of winning

In easily winning his last match, in which his opponent retired after three pounds of ham and forty eggs had been consumed, Leader gave an exhibition of what a really good eater can do. He dispatched the nineteen eggs that were left and completed his feast with steak and kidney pudding and cream cakes.

Ladies-in-waiting to Queen Mary no longer shiver miserably while on duty at Balmoral Castle in Scotland as they did in the days of Queen Victoria. The castle has been modernized, and the minister in attendance to the King needs no longer to use his bed as a writing table and his chimney as a smoking room.

The task of bringing the castle into line with modern ideas of comfort and sanitation, started in King Edward's reign, have just been completed. Though the interior furnishings are quite simple, the castle is home-like, and this year for the first time is not the uncomfortable, draught-riddled home which Queen Victoria regarded with such affection.

The King and Queen who are spending several weeks at Balmoral have known Deeside from childhood, sporting facilities appealing strongly to the King. The Queen, whose interest in sport is not great, enjoys the peace and quiet of the estate. She pays visits to personal friends nearby. The King goes grouse shooting daily and often sits before log fires in the hunting huts swapping stories with his companions

The bob-haired bandit and other types of the woman criminal who have been operating with increasing frequency in London recently are declared by investigators to belong for the most part to a well-organized feminine robber gang, recruited and trained by a master mind—an ex-convict known as "Limehouse Lizzie."

These girls, recent additions to the criminal element, are usually well-educated—of the "girl about town by day and crook by night" type. "Limehouse Lizzie," described as one of the most daring of London's criminals, is credited with scouring the West End for suitable material and then training them in a "Crime Academy" in the East End, the exact location of which is a mystery.

Scotland Yard, focal point of England's crime detection system, admits it has a problem on its hands in dealing with the feminine crime wave, which has developed in many recent cases of burglary, housebreaking, frauds on merchants note forgeries, holdups, blackmail and other forms of law-breaking. Numbers of these activities are attributed to pupils of the "Limehouse Lizzie's" school.

Has Keen Taste for Water

The water diviner is known in England, but not the water taster In Paris there lives a certain M. Duvivier, who spends his days tasting water. So delicate is his palate that he can tell at once from what part of France, almost from what spring, the water has come. Also he can say when minerals are present and, roughly, in what quantities.—London Mail.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—Price movements in today's stock market were inclusive with the general body of stocks inclined to drift lower on the absence of public support. Mercantile reports that business was being maintained in large volume, which were confirmed by current earnings and sales reports, were offset as market factors by the drop in steel tonnage last month, the cuts in certain automobile prices and the retention of relatively stiff money rates.

Sugars gave one of the best demonstrations of group strength with buying influence by improved trade reports, and the establishment of a new high price for the season by the raw commodity. American Beet Sugar preferred was bid up nearly four points.

Although the ten leading chain store systems broke all earnings records in the first eight months of the year, heavy liquidation took place in the G. R. Kinney issues, which broke to new low levels for the year. Steels were heavy, United States Steel common touching a new low on the current movement at 147, while United States Cast Iron Pipe broke four points. Most of the oils and motors were sluggish.

The closing was irregular. Total sales approximated 700,000 shares.

AUTO HOOKED INTO WAGON REMOVING WHEEL FRIDAY

Oscar Regal of Brooklyn was arrested Friday afternoon by Jesse Dunham of Murphy street, who charged the Brooklyn man with reckless driving in removing a wheel from Dunham's wagon as Regal tried to drive past in his automobile. The automobile hooked into the front wheel of the wagon demolishing it. Mr. Dunham was not injured. Regal was arraigned later before Judge Shufeldt in police court and the hearing adjourned to September 22. Before all the parties had left the city hall, however, Regal had reimbursed Dunham for the damage to the wagon and Dunham withdrew the charge.

Claims Payments Were Justified

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—One defense indicated in cross-examination of the chief witness against former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and former Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller for accepting a $391,000 bribe is that payment of $7,000,000 to German claimants was justified.

Documents which secured the money from the American treasury were truthful, Richard Merton, German copper magnate and former army captain, testified yesterday. They showed that German owners of a seized 49 per cent of stock in the American Metal Company had transferred their claim to the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs Des Metaux, he declared. They did not reveal, however, that a majority of the stock in this corporation of a neutral country was German owned.

Two checks, said Mr. Merton in direct examination, for $3,500,357, and $2,953,622 were delivered to him in his New York hotel room by Mr. Miller. Because of the prohibition law he did not know where to get drinks for his guests at a dinner he gave in celebration, so he got the late John T. King, then Republican national committeeman for Connecticut, to get two bottles of champagne for him.

Mr. Merton will continue on the stand when the trial is resumed Monday.

Spain Resigns From League

Geneva, Sept. 11 (AP).—Spain today resigned from the League of Nations.

The official communique reads: "The secretary-general of the League of Nations this morning received through the Spanish consul at Geneva a note from the Spanish government giving formal notice according to article one of the league covenant that Spain will withdraw from the league on the expiration of two years from date of receipt of the note by the secretary-general. The document has been circulated to all members of the league."

The Spanish note is said to be couched in the most friendly tone and it wishes all success to the league.

News that Spain had decided to resign from the League of Nations was first given in an Associated Press despatch relayed over the Spanish border to Hendaye, France, last Tuesday.

The despatch said the resignation had been agreed upon at a cabinet council Tuesday presided over by King Alfonso and that a note had been prepared for despatch to Geneva.

The delay in forwarding the resignation was explained in Geneva yesterday as being due to the Spaniards' desire not to embarrass the entry of Germany into league. The Germans were officially received at yesterday's assembly session.

The Spanish resignation follows rejection of her demand for a permanent seat on the league council.

A rousing good time is anticipated on November 17 in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church of Marlborough. The Ladies' Aid of which Mrs. Florence Ogden is president, will hold a turkey supper and fair on that date. It has been so long since a turkey supper has been given that the thought just tickles appetites. The fair will be especially attractive as the booths will represent a carnival of the holidays. They are to be decorated according to the suggestion of each holiday. Candy will be used in St. Valentine's booth, aprons at St. Patrick's, plants and flowers in Easter's, food of all sorts in Thanksgiving's and fancy articles in the Christmas booth. Fortune telling will be the feature of the Hallowe'en booth. A parcel post office will replace the usual grab bag.

Mrs. Cooney's guests over the week end and holiday were her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Geerin and sons, James and Raymond Cooney, Miss May Geerin, Mr. and Mrs. William Hafferty and son of Jersey City.

Six People Were Slightly Injured

Six residents of Brooklyn, including a seventeen months' old baby, were slightly injured on Friday at Lomontville when the Ford car in which they were riding struck a pole alongside the road. While the Ford was somewhat damaged it was able to proceed under its own power and brought its occupants to the Kingston City Hospital where they had their bruises dressed and later resumed the trip to their homes in Brooklyn. Those who were riding in the Ford and escaped with bruises and a shaking up were Julius Klein, Mary Klein, Dorothy Klein, 11 years old, Bertha Klein, 14 years old, and Leonard Klein 17 months old, and Jacob Goldstein.

Three Senatorial Candidates Ill

Chicago, Sept. 11 (AP).—Illness has placed a restraining hand on the campaign of three mid-western senatorial candidates, and has curtailed activities of several other leaders in political life.

George E. Brennan nominee for United States senator in Illinois, must remain in a hospital another week before it can be determined whether he will be able to resume his speaking tour.

Mr. Brennan, the third of Illinois' senatorial candidates to be stricken, injured his left knee joint at Nokomis, Ills., last Tuesday.

His Republican opponent, Col. Frank L. Smith is recuperating from an operation for appendicitis, performed about the time he won the nomination from Senator William B. McKinley, who is critically ill with sciatic rheumatism at Martinville, Ind.

Colonel Smith W. Brookhart, Republican senatorial nominee in Iowa, and Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin are undergoing physical examinations, and Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota, has been ordered to take a complete rest in a Minneapolis hospital.

Bostonian Fails To Swim Channel

Dover, England, Sept. 11 (AP).—Louis Timson, of Boston, failed today in his attempt to swim the English Channel.

Taking to the water at 10:05 o'clock last night, at Cape Gris Nez, he abandoned the task at 5:05 o'clock this morning.

Weather conditions were ideal when Timson took his plunge and remained good until 4 o'clock this morning. Then a strong south westerly wind rose. It kicked up an extreme rough sea and Timson abandoned his attempt on the advice of his pilot when between nine and ten miles out from Cape Blanc Nez, to the west of Calais.

Captain Killingley, who was trainer and mentor for Mrs. Mille Gade Corson when she swam the channel, was advisor for Timson. The swimmer had as his pilot Harry Pearson, who guided Mrs. Corson across the waterway.

Contest For Legion Head

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP).—The contest for state commander of the American Legion is gripping the attention of the convention in this city. Arthur Brundage of Newburgh, vice-commander, finds himself opposed by Pelham Saint George Bissell, New York, grande chef de gare of the state forty and eight society, other candidates having withdrawn. The convention will close tonight.

A frolic was held for the Legionnaires last evening at a nearby farm and recreation place. Among the novel features introduced were some which recalled the days that were spent in front of the German lines. Roast ox was served. Many of the Canadian troopers who marched with the Americans in the parade yesterday were on hand to fraternize with their Yankee buddies.

Commander Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., was delayed in arrival yesterday and a special session of the convention was held to hear the hero. He described his flight over the pole, giving to the men who accompanied him credit for the success of the expedition.

Mushroom Weighs Two Pounds.

There has been on display in one of the show windows of the restaurant of Louis Simonetti, 536 Broadway, since Friday, the largest mushroom of natural growth ever found in this section. It weighs two pounds and measures about 14 inches across the top. It is round and resembles a large custard pie with browned top. It is one of a very large number of mushrooms which have grown in the heavy thicket at Markle Heights near Torino's, a short distance from the Ashokan reservoir. The damp weather, it is said, has been the cause for the growth of the many mushrooms found in the locality in the past few days. Mr. Simonetti gathered three bushel baskets full of them, which are sliced and dried and put away in paper bags to be used when wanted later for sauces prepared for beefsteaks, plank steaks or spaghetti. A number of others have gathered quantities of them.

Health Heroes And Their Work

Research Work of Pioneer Investigators and How They Were Exposed to Danger Vividly Described in Radio Talk.

Health Heroes was the subject of a radio talk broadcast from Station WGY Friday night by B. R. Rickards, director of the division of public health education of the State Department of Health. Mr. Rickards' talk was one of the regular weekly health talks prepared by the State Health Department.

According to Mr. Rickards, "Milton once said to Cromwell, 'Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war.' A Milton of today might be moved to say that 'Health hath her heroes no less renowned than war,' for if it were possible to count the lives saved in the past century by health heroes who worked at the risk of their lives and sometimes made the supreme sacrifice they doubtless would be rated as even greater than many brave soldiers to whom statues have been erected.

"When Jenner discovered during the last decade of the eighteenth century that vaccination with cowpox would prevent small pox, he may be said to have started the modern trend toward the prevention of disease. He met great opposition and ridicule but continued his work. To him we owe the present comparative freedom from this loathesome disease.

Pasteur and Vaccine.

"Louis Pasteur will probably always be remembered as the father of modern bacteriology and as the man who demonstrated that infectious diseases are due to specific germs which come from previous cases of the same disease. His was pioneer work and like Jenner and many others he had to stand the jokes and ridicule of his contemporaries. By his work he saved the silk industry of France but, still more important, he found the cause of anthrax which in man is commonly known as wool sorters' disease and discovered a means of preventing it in animals by means of a vaccine. As little was then known about this deadly organism he literally took his life in his hands in studying it. Pasteur is more generally known by his discovery of a method of preventing rabies in persons bitten by mad dogs—the Pasteur treatment.

Lister's Important Work.

"Some older people will remember when a person's chance of recovering from even a minor operation was small because gangrene was almost certain to follow, particularly if the patient went to a hospital. All this was changed when Lister demonstrated that all instruments and articles used in an operation must be sterilized and that surgeons' hands and even the skin of the patient at the site of the operation, must be treated with germicidal solutions. Today one seldom hears of an operation followed by infection of the wound and one's chances of recovery are even greater if an operation is performed at a hospital than at home. The British Medical Journal once said of Lister's work that he had saved more lives than were sacrificed by all the wars of the nineteenth century.

Stamping Out Yellow Fever.

"Forty or fifty years ago it was not unusual in the summer to read of some of our southern cities having a large number of cases and many deaths from yellow fever. So greatly was this disease feared that shot gun quarantines kept people from entering or leaving the stricken areas. Dr. Walter Reed and his associates, some of whom exposed themselves to clothing worn previously by yellow fever patients and others to mosquitoes which had bitten yellow fever patients, proved conclusively that the infection was carried by the mosquito and not by infected articles. As a result of these experiments it became possible to build the Panama Canal and yellow fever is now fast disappearing from the earth. This was a great service to mankind, but at what a cost. Dr. Lazear, one of Dr. Reed's assistants, died from yellow fever as a result of these experiments; Dr. Carroll, another assistant, recovered from the disease only to die later from a heart disorder, which was an after effect of the infection.

Other Health Heroes.

"If time and space permitted we might tell you of Behring who discovered a cure for diphtheria, of Ricketts who died from typhus fever while studying that disease, of McClintic who succumbed to Rocky Mountain spotted fever under similar conditions and of the work of other modern heroes which has led to a preventive for typhoid; a means for conferring a lifelong immunity to diphtheria; and to many other victories over some of the most dreaded of the communicable diseases.

"Few people have met the health heroes just mentioned but there are health heroes whom everyone meets. The health officer who looks after the health conditions of the community; the health nurse, who so often is able to find physical defects and prevent sickness, are not far from what the physician and the nurse who are ever ready to ... personal sacrifice and ... if need be ... receive proper care and ... chance to be restored to health."

Youthful Inventors

The average age at which twenty of the greatest inventions were produced is thirty-two. Wireless telegraphy, the self-binding reaper and the vacuum air brake were largely developed in the inventors' twenty-second year.

NIMBLE! EASY TO DRIVE-TO STEER-TO PARK

Woman Driver Amazes Seattle Crowd

"Mrs. F. E. Griff, driving an Oldsmobile DeLuxe Coach, easily showed ... what a skillful woman of 14 years experience, and a good judge of distance can do with a car that can start, brake quickly, steer easily and turn 'on the edge of a dime.' In one of three obstacle races ... the one in which cars of 110 to 126 inch wheelbase competed in Seattle, the length of a long block, Mrs. Griff amazed the crowd during the one minute and 36 seconds in which she won. Boxes, barrels, packing cases, etc., were placed so as to leave a winding trail, barely wide enough to pass through.

"Afterward two men tried to beat what Mrs. Griff and her Oldsmobile had done. Each came to grief."

— Motor West, June 15th.

Every traffic condition, ordinarily difficult, illustrates the advantages of Oldsmobile's ease of control .... its instant response to accelerator .... its obedience to brakes .... its steering ease .... its all-around agility.

Every crowded parking space demonstrates the joy of its handling facility, its short turning radius, the ease with which it parks.

In naming the qualities for which they prize their car, Oldsmobile owners, by the thousands, place on a par with the constant satisfaction of thorough dependability, brilliant performance and envied smartness ....

"Nimble! .... Easy to drive .... Easy to Steer .... Easy to Park."

Secretary Mellon Shows Appreciation of Famous Works of Art in Paris —Cities Refuse Permission for Establishment of Monkey Farms— Eccentricities in Dress Passing.

Paris, Sept. 11 (AP).—When Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the United States Treasury, left Paris for England, it was with the reputation firmly established in official and near official circles of being an art connoisseur. He also gave those with whom he came into contact an opportunity to judge for themselves his skill as a financier.

Mr. Mellon's call at the Quai D'Orsay lasted exactly half an hour, nine minutes of which were given over to Foreign Minister Briand. The remaining 21 minutes were spent by the American secretary admiring the priceless Gobelins in the Foreign Office.

Mr. Mellon stayed an hour in the Ministry of Finance. He chatted with Premier Poincare for ten minutes and then, at his own request, followed by an ancient usher, he visited the Louvre Museum in another wing of the Ministry Building and stood for many minutes before each of the famous paintings there.

"He is a real art expert," said the usher when he became aware of the identity of the visitor. "I don't believe a man who takes such pleasure in admiring beautiful works of art can be a man to drive an impossible bargain on the French debt. He must have been maligned."

"The more sedate and refined my models are, the keener American buyers are to purchase them, this year," says one of the leading dressmakers. "The day of eccentricities, better suited to the music-hall stage is over," he added.

There is a general agreement that the models being shown represent a high order of taste as they are free from exaggeration of any kind.

The town of Menton is in the throes of a bitter zoological and medical controversy. Dr. Serge Voronoff, of monkeygland fame, has asked the city fathers to give him permission to build a monkey house for 300 simians inside the city limits. Listening to Dr. Voronoff, the officials saw visions of turning their quiet town into a famous center for medical research. But listening to the local representatives of the S. P. C. A., delegates from the churches, and to groups of mothers who feared that three hundred monkeys would be dangerous to the children they decided that permission would be held up pending further examination into the scheme.

Dr. Voronoff claims that the Riviera is the only part of Europe where he can successfully raise monkeys. Already three other cities have refused him permission to establish his farm within their limits.

America, deprived of the wines of France, is developing an appetite for French snails.

Snail exports to the United States have increased amazingly in the last three years. In 1926 they reached the huge total of 1,000,000 pounds. Exporters say that tourists on automobile trips throughout the country have acquired the snail habit at the small country inns.

Nuts of Dauphiny, the Dordogne and Anjou also have touched the American palate, and so great have been the recent exports that local prices have risen to a high level.

France's first "big time" woman journalist, Mme. Jeanne Bremontier, is dead. She leaves a record of achievement envied by many a male star reporter.

Mme. Bremontier, more than thirty years ago, assisted in founding La Fronde, the first daily newspaper devoted to women's affairs. Later she achieved fame as a reporter in the Dreyfus case when she discovered the hiding place of Major Esterhazy, who was accused jointly with Dreyfus and who took refuge in England. Her stories on the case attracted worldwide attention.

French feminists give to Mme. Bremontier much of the credit for the amelioration of women's position in France during the last quarter century.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Sept. 11 (AP).—Sales of the ten leading chain store companies of the country for the eight months ended August 31 aggregated $345,530,481, establishing a new high record for any similar period in the country's history. The increase over the corresponding months last year amounted to $40,707,987 or 13.35 per cent, while the gain in August business alone was more than 8 per cent above that of August, 1925.

Financial houses identified with the motion picture industry estimate that more than $750,000,000 will be paid by the American public for admission to the 20,000 motion picture theatres in the United States during 1926.

Reports reaching the financial district from Berlin indicate that a combination to control the manufacture of benzine from lignite will soon be effected by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the Royal Dutch Shell group and the German Gasoline Company, a former Stinnes subsidiary. Standard Oil Company officials recently admitted their interest in new processes to produce synthetic fule but denied that any agreements had been concluded with German firms.

LAST NIGHT on THE RADIO

Perfect reception beginning at 10 o'clock was preceded by poor reception in spots, the poor spots exceeding the good ones. There was blanketing and the peculiar chattering and fat frying noises that prevailed so generally during the summer and early fall of 1924. Only strong local stations came through and they were not strong or clear.

After 10 o'clock all stations were clear and strong and DX extended as far as WBAP at Fort Worth, Texas, which never was clearer. The north and east were weak at all times during the evening and with the exception of Fort Worth and Louisville, southern stations were weak or silent.

And yet, through all this, came the hitherto unheard voice of "Dad's station", WDAD, at Nashville, Tenn., "the Athens of America", 225.4 meters, 150 watts.

New Light on History

Julius Caesar and his friend Cassius were walking in the forum one day when they met a couple of pretty slave girls. Julius, as was his wont, gave them a glad hello as he passed along.

"Who was them gals?" asked Cassius.

"I don't know," said Julius, "but I'm forum."

It was at that moment that Cassius decided that something must be done to free Rome of this monster.—Detroit News.
